SUMMARY

Writer and content strategist with a background in psychology and journalism, working across brand, social, SEO, growth, and community. I've built launch narratives and creator partnerships for startups (50+ collaborations closed, 1M+ impressions on a single launch), written for travel and events brands, ghostwritten founder thought leadership, and built communities people want to be part of. I'm drawn to work that turns an understanding of how people think into clear, memorable storytelling.
